

Satellite radio should be allowed to broadcast local traffic and weather. People are willing to pay for this service because it is a superior product. Free enterprise and free speech should not be comprimised to save a dying business model.